

REISS
AW19
SHOP NOW

Ad closed by Google

Meet Chelsea's star players: This year's Chelsea Flower Show boasts a record number of Show Gardens, designed by some top-notch gardeners

- Over 165,000 visitors are expected to descend on the Chelsea Flower Show
- Here we pick out the very best gardens to see at the 2016 show
- Jo Thompson and Diarmuid Gavin are just some of the designers to watch

By CONSTANCE CRAIG SMITH FOR WEEKEND MAGAZINE
PUBLISHED: 23:32, 13 May 2016 | UPDATED: 23:32, 13 May 2016

Share

 View comments

On a bitterly cold January day, when spring still seemed a very long way away, the RHS unveiled the highlights of this year's Chelsea Flower Show to the gardening press.

The presence of Mary Berry – who is an RHS ambassador – caused a flutter of excitement, but an even greater thrill was the intriguing list of gardens that was announced.

Chelsea 2016 is shaping up to be a blockbuster year, with a record number of Show Gardens: 17, up from 15 last year. And after all the criticism at the lack of women designers in 2015, six highly regarded female designers have Show Gardens this year.

Diarmuid Gavin's Harrods Eccentric British Garden, inspired by the mad designs of W Heath Robinson, promises 'excitement and movement'

So whether you've got a ticket to Chelsea, or will be watching the nation's premier gardening event from the comfort of your sofa, there's lots to look forward to.

Site Web Enter your search Search

Like Daily Mail
 Follow Daily Mail

Follow @DailyMail
 Follow Daily Mail

Follow @MailOnline
 Follow Daily Mail

DON'T MISS

▶ Ellie Goulding and Caspar Jopling's wedding: Staff erect marquees, teepees and a stage at stately home ahead of star-studded nuptials

▶ Love Island's Theo Campbell leaves hospital with seven stitches in his eye and 'doesn't want to believe his vision is gone forever' after accident

▶ Billie Faiers looks incredible in a bright floral swimsuit as she enjoys a sunny stroll with son Arthur, two, and husband Greg in Marbella

▶ 'Don't waste your time with explanations': Tina O'Brien shares ANOTHER cryptic post as fans speculate she's 'fuming' at ex Ryan Thomas's baby reveal

▶ Nadia Sawalha dives into the family hot tub in a red swimsuit as she pokes fun at THAT emotionally charged public phone-call... amid bitter feud with sister

▶ 'Nothing happened!': Wayne Rooney breaks silence and says he 'did not enter lift alone with girl in Vancouver hotel' while woman in club wanted an 'autograph'

▶ James Bond's Aston Martin is pursued by villains in high-octane car chase as filming continues on No Time To Die in Italy

▶ Chloe Sims' OTHER sister Frankie steps out with Demi to film scenes for TOWIE... as she becomes the final sibling to join the cast

▶ Georgia Kousoulou looks radiant in a plunging dress as she returns to work on TOWIE... after crippling anxiety battle forced her to quit Sink Or Swim

▶ Scarlett Moffatt turns heads in a pink polka dot shirt dress as she pushes a

UK'S CHEAPEST LIFE INSURANCE
NEW SERVICE

INSURANCE
Compare insurers
and the best deals

Save money
now

Powered by CompareOnline

This year we'll again be able to enjoy wall-to-wall television coverage of the show on the BBC, presented by Weekend's own Monty Don, Sophie Raworth, Joe Swift, Nicki Chapman and James Wong. But who are the ones to watch?

THE FAMOUS FACES

Several of this year's designers are also familiar faces on TV. Chris Beardshaw, who's morphed effortlessly from heart-throb presenter on shows like Real Rakeovers and Housecall to internationally renowned designer, has made a garden for Great Ormond Street, which will be relocated to the children's hospital once the show is over.

Jo Thompson makes a return with her urban communal garden inspired by the nearby Chelsea Barracks

Matthew Wilson, a regular on TV gardening programmes and Gardeners' Question Time, is creating a garden paying tribute to the beauty of York Minster and Yorkshire. Andy Sturgeon, a former Best In Show winner who has presented the TV coverage of Chelsea for several years, is making a very welcome return as a designer with a Show Garden inspired by the geological events that have shaped our landscape.

THE LADIES

Jekka McVicar, Britain's Queen of Herbs, is moving out of the Great Pavilion that houses stands from nurseries and plant societies and designing her first Show Garden, called A Modern Apothecary.

It's filled with herbs including unusual varieties such as yarrow and salad burnet. Rosy Hardy, one of the most respected plantswomen in the country, is making her debut as a Chelsea Show Garden designer with Forever Freefolk, inspired by chalk streams such as the River Test, which runs past her garden in Hampshire.

Jo Thompson, one of only two women designers with Show Gardens last year, was thought very unlucky not to get a gold medal in 2015.

She's back this year with an urban communal garden inspired by the nearby Chelsea Barracks.

The garden will be relocated after the show to the Royal British Legion Village in Aylesbury, Kent. And Catherine MacDonald, known for her contemporary style, is doing her first Chelsea Show Garden, with a glasshouse and tropical plants.

AND LOOK OUT FOR...

One of the more intriguing gardens is by Nick Bailey, curator at the Chelsea Physic Garden, which celebrates the beauty to be found in the mathematics and algorithms of plant life. And Huao Buca, a young designer who won a gold medal with his debut

CHELSEA FLOWER SHOW BY NUMBERS

1913 was the year the Royal Horticultural Society show was first held in the grounds of the Royal Hospital Chelsea. Apart from during the two world wars, it's been held there every year since.

500 London buses would fit in the 2.9 acre Great Pavilion.

165,000 visitors come to the show every year – it would be more but the numbers are capped.

11,000 glasses of champagne were consumed in 2015.

3 of the firms that exhibited at the first show are still doing so: McBean's Orchids, Kelways Plants and Blackmore & Langdon's.

monogrammed suitcase while stepping out in Manchester

▶ "Did he finally run out of white v-necks?" Simon Cowell leaves stunned fans VERY divided as he foregoes his signature style for a bright RED top on AGT

2019 DAYTIME EMMY AWARD WINNER

Daily Mail tv

WATCH NOW

▶ Kate Moss, 45, slips into a stylish swimsuit as she and beau Nikolai von Bismarck, 32, continue St Tropez getaway on board a £45k a week yacht

▶ Rooney-ing out of time? Wayne and Coleen's £20m mansion is transformed in three weeks with football pitch and guesthouse ahead of January move

▶ Prince Harry and Meghan Markle are praised by fans for sharing a 'kind' video message from a Nepali not-for-profit organisation

▶ Halsey shows off legs in oversized tie dye vintage shirt worn as a dress with knee-high boots on New York shopping trip

▶ Peter Andre is praised by fans as a 'true gentleman' after he halted his Sunshine Festival set to call paramedics for a sick pregnant woman

▶ Ryan Clark-Neal unveils first look at Supermarket Sweep and reveals the revival of iconic 90s game show will donate produce to food banks

▶ Ed Sheeran's manager reveals the singer asks about doing the James Bond theme song EVERY DAY... despite plans to 'retire' from music aged 28

▶ Brad Pitt reveals his hunky frame and new bicep tattoo in khaki t-shirt as he leads the celebrity arrivals at the 76th Venice Film Festival

Anytime Anywhere, MailOnline on your iPad

Try it FREE! Download it now

45% OFF

One in five drivers already own a dash cam

£30.00 £16.00
From MailShop

SHOP NOW

ADVERTORIAL FEATURES

in 2014, will want to prove he wasn't a flash in the pan with his garden on the theme of sacred water.

And the most anticipated garden? That's the work of TV presenter Diarmuid Gavin. His Harrods Eccentric British Garden, inspired by the mad designs of W Heath Robinson, promises 'excitement and movement' and is sure to be a talking point. It could be wonderful or it could be terrible – but, like the rest of the Chelsea Flower Show, you won't want to miss it.

The Chelsea Flower Show runs from 24-28 May; see rhs.org.uk for details. The TV coverage starts on Sunday 22 May and continues throughout the week on BBC1 and BBC2.

Share or comment on this article: Meet Chelsea's star players: This year's Chelsea Flower Show boasts a record number of Show Gardens, designed by some top-notch gardeners

Comments 0
Share what you think

No comments have so far been submitted. Why not be the first to send us your thoughts, or debate this issue live on our message boards.

We are no longer accepting comments on this article.

MORE TOP STORIES

The Queen AGREES to suspend Parliament: Boris Johnson's Brexit gamble gives Remainer rabble just THREE DAYS to spring their plot to stop No...

The Queen has agreed to Boris Johnson's plan to suspend Parliament as the Prime Minister tries to stop MPs blocking the UK leaving the EU on...

3.6k comments 4 videos

What happens next? How Boris Johnson's suspension of Parliament could force Remain MP's to spring their plot to block No Deal or force an...

Boris Johnson has announced plans to suspend Parliament from mid-September until a Queen's Speech is held at Westminster on October 14, less...

1.1k comments 3 videos

Commons speaker John Bercow leads outrage over Boris Johnson's suspension of Parliament branding it a 'constitutional outrage'

Commons Speaker John Bercow said the plan to shut down Parliament from around September 11 until the state opening on October 14 was an...

3.1k comments 1 video

Livid Remainers accuse Boris Johnson of staging a 'coup', vow to start plot to stop No Deal on TUESDAY and say they will occupy Parliament...

Philip Hammond (pictured) led the Remainer fury today, accusing Boris Johnson of a 'constitutional outrage', while Labour's John McDonnell...

1.6k comments 3 videos

"Taking back control" has never looked so sinister": EU Brexit negotiator Guy Verhofstadt accuses Boris Johnson of 'suppressing debate' by...

Mr Verhofstadt, who is Brexit co-ordinator for the European Parliament, warned that 'suppressing debate on profound choices is unlikely to...

1.2k comments 1 video

► Croatia
Discover the magic of Croatia
Find out more >

► Find the cheapest and best value life insurance
This is Money has teamed up with leading advisers Cavendish Online to help you find the cheapest life insurance

► Key Retirement
Boost your retirement finances
Find out how >

► Fidelity
How much do you need to save for retirement? Calculate now >

► International Money Transfer
Compare the best exchange rates in three easy steps >

Donald Trump backs Boris